

Applying a promo code to your IBM Cloud account

This page will teach you how to apply a promo code to your existing IBM Cloud Lite account. If you don't have an IBM Cloud Lite account register here.

Step 1: Access your Account Settings

Visit the Account Settings page for your IBM Cloud account. If you are not already logged in, you'll be asked to do so now.

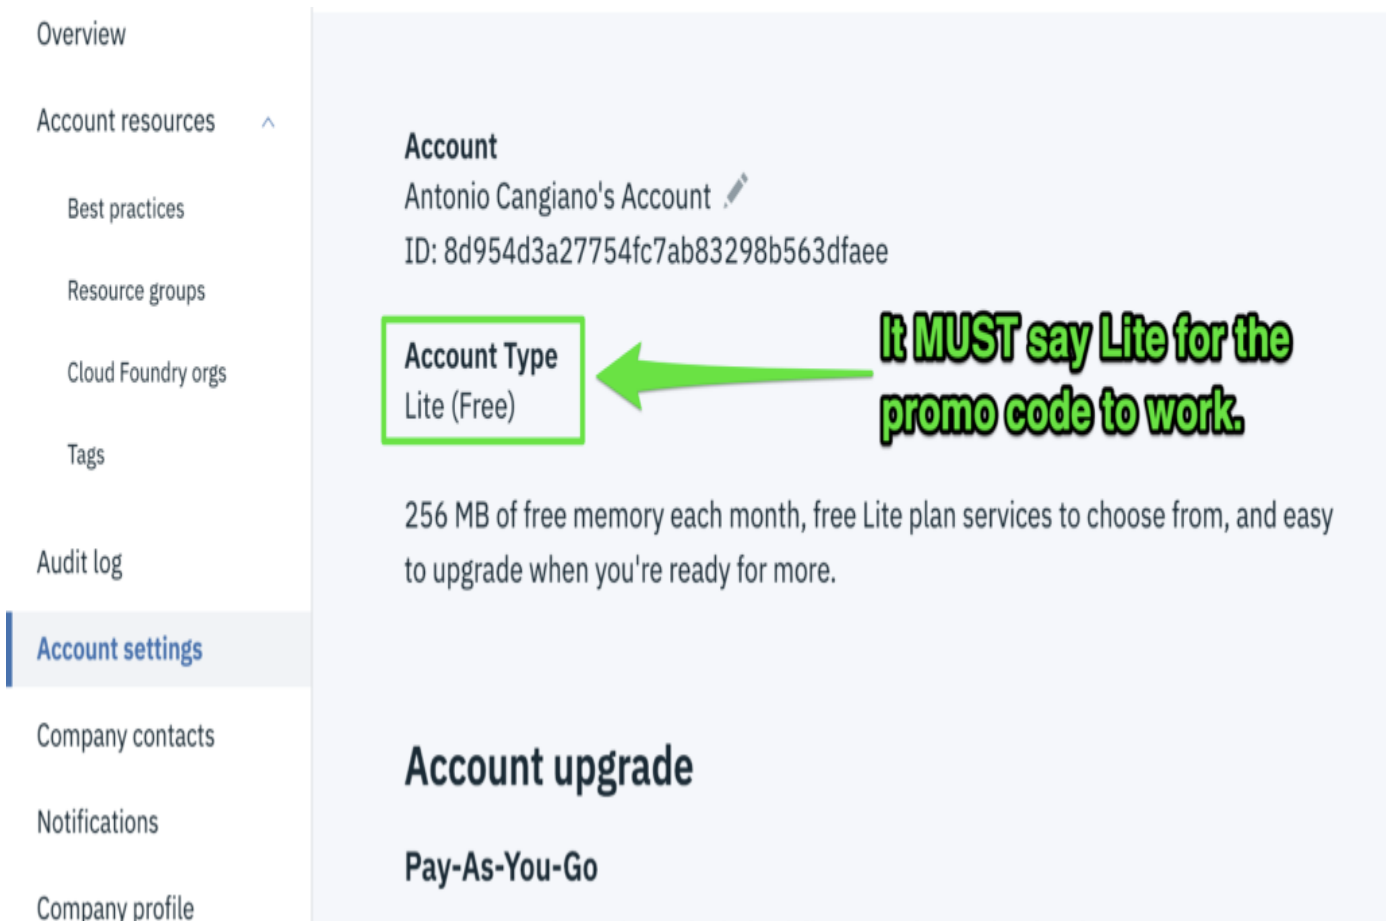

Step 2: Verify that you have a Lite account

If your account is not a free Lite account you need to sign up for a new IBM Cloud account with a different email address to take advantage of this offer.

Step 5: Your account has now been upgraded

If you followed the steps correctly, congratulations, your account type should now go from Lite to Trial. You'll have access to standard IBM Cloud services for the next 6 months (a value of $1,200 USD).

You can verify this atop the Billing page as shown in the image below.

If you encounter an error when applying your code, please consult these knowledge base articles:
